Personal Summary

Anzelle is a dual qualified lawyer (England and Wales 2024/South Africa 2019) who joined Corbett & Co. in January 2022, a leading international construction team who specialise in the avoidance and resolution of international and engineering disputes, with particular expertise in the FIDIC forms of contract. The team merged with Howard Kennedy LLP in March 2023.

Since joining the team, she has been involved in international construction arbitration cases concerning infrastructure projects based on the FIDIC suite of contracts across various jurisdictions in Europe and the Middle East. Anzelle was listed as a key lawyer under the team and Howard Kennedy's 2025 Legal500 rankings.

Prior to that, Anzelle gained several years of experience in commercial litigation and dispute resolution. In addition to legal work, Anzelle has a strong record of (and enjoys running with) business development initiatives. She also contributes to the team's legal resources which are published on the firm's website, including the widely used table of FIDIC cases and legal articles.
